

GMDA 2026 Summer Conference

Sponsor's Packet – Lubbock, Texas / July 21-23, 2026

The Groundwater Management District Association (GMDA) is composed of local groundwater management districts in several Western, Midwestern, and Southern states. At our meetings we have presentations from noted experts in the fields of hydrogeology, geology, flow meters and different management strategies. This provides us with a forum to exchange ideas on the different approaches taken by other States. For example, the primary issue in Kansas, Colorado, and Texas is groundwater quantity, while in Nebraska it is groundwater quality and quantity. In Mississippi and Florida, Districts are responsible for the joint management of surface and groundwater. Subsidence is the major issue in Louisiana and parts of Texas. Some of our Districts have developed unique projects in education and management to preserve our groundwater resources for future generations. Please visit our website for more information and a look at past conferences – www.gmdausa.org.
